- Focused: Cover only what you can support within your scope.

Example: Instead of saying, "Climate change is important," say, "Implementing renewable energy solutions is essential to reducing greenhouse gas emissions and combating climate change."

- Extract the Core of Your Thesis into a Skwire

Think of your thesis as the core message, and your skwire as the wire that connects all supporting points. To do this:

- Summarize your thesis in a single, strong sentence.
- Identify the key supporting points that reinforce your thesis.
- Visualize these points as connected links on the wire.

- Map Out Your Supporting Arguments

Create an outline where each paragraph or section links back to your thesis skwire. For example:

- Introduction: Present the thesis skwire.
- Body Paragraph 1: Support point 1, connected to the thesis.
- Body Paragraph 2: Support point 2, connected to the thesis.
- Conclusion: Reinforce how all points connect back to the skwire.

- Write with the Skwire in Mind

As you compose:

- Refer back to your thesis skwire regularly.

b. Use Signposting Language

Employ phrases like:

- "As the thesis suggests..."
- "Supporting this claim..."
- "This aligns with the main argument..."

These reinforce the connection to your skwire.

c. Avoid Overloading Your Skwire

While a strong thesis is essential, ensure it remains manageable. Don't try to cover too many points at once?focus on a clear, central argument.

d. Practice Summarization

Regularly practice condensing your thesis and supporting points into concise statements. This sharpens your ability to maintain a cohesive skwire.

Common Challenges and How to Overcome Them

Challenge 1: Vagueness in the Thesis

Solution: Be as specific as possible. Narrow your focus to a particular aspect of the broader topic.

Challenge 2: Losing Focus During Writing

Solution: Continuously refer back to your thesis skwire. Use outlines and topic sentences to stay aligned.

Challenge 3: Weak Connections Between Points

Solution: Make explicit links in your writing, explaining how each supporting point relates back to your main thesis.
