Understanding the American Revolution

What Was the American Revolution?

The American Revolution was a colonial revolt that took place between 1765 and 1783. It was a war fought by the thirteen American colonies against Great Britain to gain independence and establish their own nation. The revolution led to the creation of the United States of America.

Why Did the Colonists Want Independence?

The colonists' desire for independence stemmed from several grievances against British rule, including:

- Taxation Without Representation: The colonies were taxed by the British government without having representatives in Parliament.
- Trade Restrictions: Laws like the Stamp Act and Townshend Acts limited colonial trade and economic growth.
- Quartering of Troops: The presence of British soldiers in colonial homes was seen as an invasion of privacy.
- Lack of Colonial Voice: Colonists felt they lacked a say in how they were governed by distant authorities.

Key Events Leading to the Revolution

The Stamp Act and Other Taxes

In 1765, Parliament passed the Stamp Act, requiring colonists to buy special stamps for printed materials. This angered many colonists, who believed it was unfair to be taxed without their consent.

The First Continental Congress

In 1774, representatives from the colonies gathered to discuss their response to British policies, forming the First Continental Congress to coordinate resistance.
